Award Ceremony and CFS Symposium

“Banking, Liquidity, and Monetary Policy”

In honor of Raghuram Rajan, the award winner of 2013

Thursday, 26 September 2013, 12:00 at Campus Westend, Goethe University Frankfurt, Germany

The award ceremony takes place at the beginning of the symposium. Jürgen Fitschen, Co-Chairman of Deutsche Bank's Management Board, presents the award to Raghuram Rajan. The laudation will be given by Douglas Diamond, Professor of Finance at the University of Chicago Booth School of Business.

The Award Ceremony

Jürgen Fitschen is Co-Chairman of the Management Board and the Group Executive Committee of Deutsche Bank AG. After completing his commercial training in the wholesale and import/export business, he studied Economics and Business Administration at the University of Hamburg. He started his career in the corporate banking business at Citibank, ultimately serving as a member of the Management Committee, Germany.

After joining Deutsche Bank in 1987, Fitschen held a wide range of executive positions in Thailand, Japan and Singapore before becoming a member of the “Global Corporates and Institutions” Divisional Board in 1997. Fitschen then transferred to London in this capacity and in 2001 he was appointed to the Board of Managing Directors of Deutsche Bank Group. Later he became Global Head of the newly established Regional Management and CEO Germany. With these functional responsibilities, Fitschen was appointed to the Management Board of Deutsche Bank in 2009. Since June 2012 Fitschen is Co-Chairman of the Management Board and Group Executive Committee together with Anshu Jain. Fitschen is President of the Association of German Banks (Bundesverband deutscher Banken e.V.).

The Laudation

Douglas Diamond is the Merton H. Miller Distinguished Service Professor of Finance at the University of Chicago Booth School of Business. He specializes in the study of financial intermediaries, financial crises, and liquidity. His work has appeared in the Journal of Financial Economics, the Journal of Finance, the Review of Economic Studies, the American Economic Review, and the Journal of Political Economy. His research has been funded with grants from the National Science Foundation and the Garn Institute of Finance. He has taught at Yale, at the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology, and at the University of Bonn. He is a research associate of the NBER and worked for the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. He earned a bachelor's degree in economics from Brown University and a master's degree and Ph.D. in economics from Yale University. He is co-director of the Fama-Miller Center for Research in Finance at Chicago Booth, a visiting scholar at the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, and he is on the Board of Directors of the CRSP. He is a former president of the American Finance Association and inter alia a fellow of the Econometric Society and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.
